2016 PHABC Summer School

Public Health Association of BC

The Public Health Association of BC (PHABC) is pleased to announce for the 7th consecutive year:

2016 PHABC Summer School

This year's focus is:

"Promoting Health and Sustainability: The Case of Climate Change and Energy Use"

Our goal is to bring together individuals involved in the delivery of public health activities to examine the application of the Ottawa Charter as related to climate change issues and the implications for health and health equity actions at the individual, health care system and community levels.

Why YOU Should Register?

This is a unique opportunity for professionals and students with a shared interest in improving the quality of life for British Columbian's to:

1. Learn from each other;
2. Build intersectoral relationships;
3. Develop new skills and knowledge;
4. Apply practical tools and strategies; and
5. Improve public health by informing future directions.

How do we deliver ALL of this?

Our summer school focuses on skill development based on a foundational understanding of climate change issues and provides a mixture of:

1. Keynote presentations;
2. Case studies;
3. Team work; and
4. Hands-on activities.
