Now This is Living!

Feeling the need to do something out of the ordinary and add some excitement to your life? Want to wake up every morning to endless recreational opportunities? Want to experience northern BC's rich cultural heritage at its best?

With Northern Health you can enjoy a lifestyle that offers small town warmth, big city amenities, affordable living, and some of the shortest commutes in the country. That's what we call the best of BC – without the price tag!

Lead, Overdose Prevention, Response & Addressing Stigma Term Specific Full Time – Prince George, BC (Flexible)

The Lead—Overdose Prevention, Response and Addressing Stigma works with the Population and Public Health Leadership Team and other key stakeholders in the Overdose Response work to gather upstream evidence and design a knowledge implementation strategy and tactics addressing stigma and discrimination for people who use substances. This includes the implementation of leading interventions into direct services across Northern Health, specific to healthy people in healthy communities and across the realm of policy, education, knowledge, service design, practice and evaluation. This strategy will further the alignment of population based actions within the Northern Health operating system, working closely with Population and Public Health Leadership to grow select partnerships across the region for the purpose of driving a culture of quality, addressing stigma, harms and focused on better health for populations.

The successful incumbent will have a Master's degree in a health or social science field and five (5) to seven (7) years health service delivery/management experience with evidence of research, evaluation and quality improvement skills; or an equivalent combination of education, training and experience.
