Ministry of Health
Victoria (On-site)

Executive Director of Data Management & Stewardship and Chief Data Steward $123,100.01 - $157,100.11 annually

Join our Data Management & Stewardship team within the Health Sector Information, Analysis & Reporting Division at the BC Ministry of Health, a dynamic group of over 50 professionals dedicated to managing and overseeing all health data. You'll collaborate with senior leadership, as well as key agencies such as Provincial Health Services Authority (PHSA) and First Nations Health Authority (FNHA). Our team's commitment to effective data and technology solutions ensures a significant impact on health data management. We value this team for its leadership and innovation in leveraging data to drive meaningful change.

In this role, you'll be pivotal in managing health system data and technology to support analytics, reporting and research for the Ministry and its partners. As the Chief Data Steward, you'll oversee data governance within the Ministry and work with PHSA and regional health authorities, ensuring data is effectively used to enhance health services and outcomes. With increasing demand for health data, this position offers a unique chance to lead transformative changes and drive improvements across the health sector.
