Ministry of Children and Family Development Surrey, White Rock (Hybrid)

We currently have 3 permanent full-time positions available. Applicants who do not fully meet the required qualifications may be considered for this position, but at a lower classification.

Child and Youth Mental Health Clinician $88,130.18 - $100,562.25 annually, which includes a 4 Grid Market Adjustment

Child and Youth Mental Health (CYMH) teams operate in vibrant, growing communities with a deep commitment to collaboration and innovation. Working across multiple locations, our clinicians are part of a broad network of professionals supporting children, youth and families through a full spectrum of mental health services. We value inclusive practice, strong community partnerships, and ongoing learning, and we strive to provide a welcoming and supportive environment for both staff and clients.

As a CYMH Clinician, you'll support the mental wellness of children, youth, and families through direct clinical services such as intake, assessment, treatment, suicide risk assessment, safety planning, and crisis intervention for ages 0–18. Working flexibly across homes, schools, communities and offices, you'll collaborate with professionals including educators, healthcare providers, Indigenous service organizations and community agencies to deliver holistic care.

To learn more about the role and what it's like to be part of our CYMH teams, we invite you to watch our short Child and Youth Mental Health video.

Qualifications for this role include:

- Master's degree in counselling, social work, educational counselling, clinical counselling, clinical psychology or child and youth care or comparable graduate degree at the master's level in a similar subject may be considered.
- Minimum of one (1) year full-time equivalent experience working with children and youth and their families, with responsibility for providing a wide range of community based mental health services.

Preference may be given to applicants with the following:

- Applicants with more than two (2) years of experience working with children and youth and their families, with responsibility for providing a wide range of community based mental health services.
- Applicants who self-identify as having an Indigenous heritage (First Nations, Métis, or Inuit) with the required combination of education and experience.
